Fred, the heroine is a nasty, rude bitch with no likable traits (at least none that I noticed). Her reaction to her parents having sex was just too over the top for an adult, almost 30, especially one raised by a "hippie". It would even be pushing reality for a teenagers reaction. The hunky guys are even kind of blah.

She's also a hybrid mermaid who figured out a long time ago that her hippie father wasn't exactly her true parent.

"Sleeping with the Fishes" is an amusing fantasy romance. I loved the idea of a mermaid as a heroine and Fred is indeed a unique heroine. She's beautiful, smart, and more than a little impatient.

Sleeping with the Fishes by MJD is the first book in the Fred the Mermaid series. MJD is mostly known for her Undead series which is a big hit and hilarious. And like everything she writes, it was fast paced and had snappy dialogue. I really like Davidson's humor. She can have serious action one minute and humor the next.

Fred the Mermaid has taken the bait and chosen to date Artur, Prince of the Black Sea, over human marine biologist Thomas. And just in time. The existence of the Undersea Folk is no longer a secret, and someone needs to keep them from floundering in the media spotlight.

New and filled with a sarcastic wit that makes one wonder if the author herself is hiding green hair and a tail, SLEEPING WITH THE FISHES is book you absolutely won't want to miss. Dr. Fredrika "Fred" Bim is a surly hybrid (half mermaid, half biped) marine biologist in charge of the main tank at the New England Aquarium.

Sleeping with the Fishes is mindless fluff and never pretends to be anything else. It can easily be read in one afternoon on the patio with a piña colada for company. That said, even with few expectations, Sleeping with the Fishes is outright puerile and at times irritating. There's really no plot to speak of.

In Sleeping with the Fishes, Fred is half-mermaid, and her life has just become way too exciting. It starts with her walking in on her parents having sex, which, even for a grown-up, is just too icky to contemplate.

But there was one point on which Sandy and I were united in our mockery of Fred: When the fishing was slow, Fred would often reel up, find a comfortable spot, and go to sleep. To Sandy and me, this was nothing more than a cop-out—we were there to fish, man!—and we accused him of sulking and being a baby who couldn't take it when things got tough.
